

MARGINS PLUS

WORK ORDER INQUIRY

One of the strengths of the Margins Plus System is its ability to provide Historical Information on a multitude of topics. In keeping with this tradition, a new feature added to "Margins Plus" is the Work Order Inquiry program. A spin off of the popular Order Inquiry program, the Work Order Inquiry differs only in the information that is displayed for each item on the order. In addition to displaying the item number, item description, quantity ordered and price, the Work Order Inquiry program also displays the last cost of the item, the current cost and the cost of the item at the time of the last order. It also displays the last date the item was purchased by that customer and the price that was charged along with the quantity ordered.

Your salesman can use this additional information when determining pricing for the customer. It provides an invaluable tool that previously would have required the use of file cabinets and searching through old folders. In addition to these fine features there is also an option to enter in billing notes with the scratch pad option. These notes will automatically display during Invoice confirmation and is a method for the salesman to communicate with the billing department. Judging from the initial reaction from several of our new clients, the Work Order Inquiry program has been a welcome enhancement.
